

Scenarios are just one of the many futures thinking methods available to you. You can use this handout to consider which of the many approaches to scenario planning would best fit your organisational needs. You can select an appropriate methodology based on your purpose and desired outcomes. Should you have any questions about scenarios or other ways of thinking about the future, feel free to contact us at answers@lufg.com.au, via the website www.lookingupfeelinggood.com or at our Richmond office on 613 9445 0289.

Functional Values

Copyright MP Barber 2006 www.lookingupfeelinggood.com

Which Scenario Process is Right for you?

Component  Scenario Type 	Required Time Commitment	Depth of Inquiry	Costs	Contingency Planning Value	Learning, Creativity & Team Building Value	Strategic Value
Coffee Cup
Incremental
Inductive
Off the Shelf
Normative
ASp
Deductive
Deep Scenarios

The more 'eyes' = 'higher value' or 'more input required' (Max of 5)